

To Remind The Most

Will, I need to seriously talk to You.

Will, is it really much difficult to try solving the problems using My Solution?

Will, think over: which one is more difficult, harder, and heartbreaker for You between:

(1) Silently sit and see many people including infants, toddlers, kids, children, women, and elders suffering and passed away in wars, silently sit and see most of English People live suffering lives, and silently sit and see England and Our World have been destroyed slowly,

Or

(2) Try firing the harlots and their children who all are also the rebels out of the positions and Your Palaces, and then, try calling Me before order Your subordinates to bring all the rebels who have offended Most of The English People and The British Monarchy and have destroyed England, to be sentenced?

Will, as The Son of Almighty Who were sent to be born “on top” as The Future King of England, which one is more difficult, harder, and heartbreaker for You?

